

the lessons Im learning are so easy to find all it took was just opening my mind and if take the time to listen to what we say we'll soon realize that we create our way in this world and the world keeps on turning round and round

we got to know how to keep our feet on the ground people on this planet we're here for what we choose we just gotta stop living in other peoples shoes the path to infinity it opens before your feet just take up your power and you'll never meet with defeat take the time to see the lessons your here to learn and dont jump in that fire unless you want to get burned by the flames

round and round
