

when we first met you said your a dangerous person to take to bed that you burn thru men like a forest fire burns thru trees so you said lets be friends but if you feel like sleeping in the lions den dont be surprised when you end up being meat cause you know I might break your heart but I might just set you free you gotta know this from the start thats the way its gotta be, thats the way its gonna be so I took my time and waited around the back of the line for your heart to move and your eyes to truly see oh but its like you said and you can turn a gold heart into lead and I might be a fool but I just cant let it be cause I know you might break my heart but it might just set me free yeah I know this from the start

now the years have turned and Ive done my best to not get burned but my heart still yearns for you to make love to me and the time has come for your wicked ways to all be done and I hope when it rains that you'll come running to me cause you know I wont break your heart and I'll surely set you free we both knew it from the start
